

Title VI is a law.

you must be treated the same as others. Your race, color, national origin, sex, age and disability do not matter. It does not matter if you come from another country. It does not matter if you are poor or speak another language.

The California Department of Transportation gets money to build and fix bridges. It gets money to build and fix roads too. The California Department of Transportation pays companies to do some of the work. This work will help all people in California. The California Department of Transportation and the companies must follow the law.

If you are not treated the same as others, because of your race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability; what country you come from; because you are poor or because you speak another language; write a letter.

Tell how you were not treated the same as others. Give your name, address and phone number. You must sign and date your letter. Send your letter to:
